

Dr Joseph Mulema

Plantwise Regional Support Manager, Africa, CABI (Centre for Agriculture and Biosciences International)

I have more than eight years experience of working in both developed and developing countries on a range of projects, mainly in plant health. I have spent the last four years working with various stakeholders in Uganda and Zambia to establish all inclusive plant health systems through the Plantwise Initiative. My role as the Plantwise Regional Support Manager, Africa are many but I specifically support country coordinators and stakeholders in countries to implement the Plantwise initiative.
