

Prof Lindsay Brown

Professor of Biomedical Sciences, University of Southern Queensland, Toowoomba, Australia

Academic background: Bachelor of Pharmacy with Honours, The University of Queensland 1974; PhD, University of Sydney, 1981; Fellow of the International Academy of Cardiovascular Sciences, 2015

Current position: Professor of Biomedical Sciences, University of Southern Queensland, Toowoomba, Australia

The research group of Professor Lindsay Brown at USQ looks at the effectiveness of foods with anti-inflammatory effects to reverse organ damage due to obesity, diabetes and hypertension induced by a high carbohydrate, high fat diet in rats.