

Uschi Schreiber

EY's Global Vice Chair, Markets and Chair, Global Accounts Committee

Uschi Schreiber is a member of the Global Executive Board of EY. She is responsible for EY's global growth and enablement functions. In this context, she works on the cutting edge of disruption and innovation as they affect governments and businesses across the world. She is the founder of EY's Innovation Realized, an annual retreat for senior executive leaders from many industries that explores the impact of technology innovation on the economy and society.

On a day-to-day basis, Uschi is responsible for EY's account and industry focused go-to-market approach, and its globally integrated planning across service lines, sectors and geographies. She also leads and manages functions such as Strategy and Analysis, Industry programs; Alliance partnerships; Global Knowledge provision; Middle Market strategy; Business Development; Digital Services; Digital Tools and Methods, Alumni programs and Global Trade networks.

Uschi has an international profile and is recognized as a transformational leader with extensive experience in driving change in large and complex organizations, including in health care service provision. Her experience spans private, public and NGO sectors in mature and emerging markets. She is a sought after public speaker and avid blogger, contributing to the public debate on issues such as technology, disruption, leadership, gender and health. She was recognized by LinkedIn as one of the top ten global voices on management and culture.

Uschi is a leader in progressing women's issues in an international context and in EY's Diversity & Inclusiveness programs. She initiated EY's global Women. Fastforward program on gender parity and the Worldwide Women Public Sector Leaders Network. She is a member of the World Economic Forum's Agenda for the Future of Government and an advisor and board member of the Global Women in Parliament Forum.

Originally from Germany, Uschi has lived and worked in Europe, Asia and Australia. She is now based in New York. Uschi holds academic qualifications from universities in Australia and Germany.